

Press Release June 2009

RohnerChem names new Head of Strategic Sourcing to establish Asian network

RohnerChem is intensifying its global strategic sourcing activities to develop strong partnerships with suppliers and establish networks with optimal partners in key business areas. This will further enable RohnerChem to take advantage of the cost-saving option of Asian sourcing with selected partners there.

To achieve this aim, Dr. Matthias Guex joins RohnerChem as of June 1st, 2009 as Head of Strategic Sourcing. He is responsible for reengineering the supply chain process, focusing on establishing long-term cooperations with highly qualified partners. He will strongly support our project evaluation team in «make or buy» decisions and enlarge the technological portfolio. Dr. Matthias Guex has a Ph.D. in organic chemistry, solid long term experience in chemical sourcing and production at an executive level. RohnerChem significantly strengthens its service offering with this additional strategic function reporting directly to the CEO.

Founded in 1906, RohnerChem is a Swiss based custom chemical manufacturer leveraging conventional chemistry with expertise in several state-of-the-art technologies (e.g. Transition Metal Catalysis, polymer modification, high pressure/low temperature reactions) to support customers with unique and challenging manufacturing requirements for complex small molecules. RohnerChem provides fast and efficient technology transfers matched with the highest level of customer responsiveness, operational flexibility and rapid scale-up expertise to serve our customers in the life science and specialty chemicals industries.
